The lodge-like main house has four bedrooms and the guest cottage two. The buildings are being offered for $2.5 million on 105 acres, or $3.6 million for the full 252-acre property.

Broadway legend Bob Avian has put his Kent estate on the market. Avian is probably best known for his choreography of A Chorus Line, for which he won a Tony Award in 1976. The 5,100-square-foot main house sits on 252 acres, along with a guest cottage, caretaker's house, cabana, garage and barn. (Sandy Csizmar)
