

Home › News › 5 Jaw-Dropping Luxury Homes for Sale

5 Jaw-Dropping Luxury Homes for Sale

BY HAUTE RESIDENCE | APRIL 23, 2015

Our friends at TopTenRealEstateDeals.com have rounded up a spectacular mix of notable abodes currently up for grabs, from the picturesque estate of a former television great, to a nature-loving beauty nestled in the woods.

#5: Rye Nature Preserve

Now priced at $2.2 million, this 5,108-square-foot house—enveloped by 1.69 acres of forest—was designed to showcase views of the surrounding woods and its outdoor waterfall and pool.

Designed by notable architect Peter Smith, also known for his efforts as a conservationist, the contemporary home is constantly filled with light during the day thanks to raised skylights and floor-to-ceiling windows. Perhaps the residence's coolest feature, however, is the tree sprouting beneath its glass-and-steel roof, serving as the focal point between the home's open first-floor foyer, living room, and dining area.

Enjoyed this list of homes for sale? Click here to see the rest of this real estate hot list.

Photos courtesy of toptenrealestatedeals.com.