Carl Slater has bought out the trucking business of Michael Kilbride of Sandy Hook and will be glad to serve the public in any way in his line; teaming, furnishing hacks, haying, etc. Carl is a young man and we wish him well. Our friend, the popular bachelor, owns an automobile, an attractive residence and we trust a comfortable competency. That he may live long and find some worthy and beautiful lady to share his joys and sorrows is the wish of the scribe.

John F. Houlihan, the efficient tax collector, has collected about $34,000 since the beginning of the fiscal year, last September, a high record. Mr Houlihan finds the personal taxes are coming in rather slowly. Mr Houlihan wishes those liable to pay personal taxes to give prompt attention to the matter, as they must be paid.
