buyers are seeking.

"I create houses that are different," said Ryan Fletcher owner of Fletcher Development LLC. "The layout is different and much less formal than traditional homes."

With traditional center hall layout, a living room sits right of the entry, featuring a wood-burning fireplace with access on either side into the kitchen and family room.

An easy open family room features a floor-to-ceiling hand-cut stone fireplace pre-wired for a TV hookup.

French doors with transom windows offering added light open to a wraparound deck the leads to a covered flagstone terrace perfect for outdoor entertaining.

A two-story kitchen features exposed beams made from reclaimed barn wood and interior windows that look down from a second-floor hallway.

Just off the kitchen are a formal dining room with a fully equipped butler's pantry, a walk-in food pantry and an extensive mudroom with its own separate covered entry and access to a heated three car garage.

A first-floor library features a coffered ceiling and wall-to-wall paneling and includes a full bath to easily convert to guest bedroom if needed.

The second floor features four guest bedrooms in addition to a luxurious and private master suite.

With tray ceilings, the master suite includes a sitting room, his and hers walk-in closets and a stunning master bath with a freestanding soaking tub, his and hers vanities and a full step-in shower.

A third level offers additional space for a playroom or family room and a sixth bedroom while an unfinished lower level offers potential for the buyers to weigh in on design.

The lower level will walk out to a lower stone terrace and two flat acres of property with an optional pool site available for an additional cost.

"We leave the lower level unfinished for the new homeowners to personalize," Fletcher said. "We've done an indoor sports court, yoga studio and a custom train room on that lower level."
