

Former Hunting Lodge In North Stamford Lists For $1.29M

by Robert Berczuk Real Estate 4 hours ago

William Pitt Sotheby's International Realty has listed a restored historic farmhouse that was once a hunting lodge in North Stamford. Photo Credit: Contributed

STAMFORD, Conn. – William Pitt Sotheby's International Realty announced the firm has listed a restored historic farmhouse that was once a prominent hunting lodge for the residents of North Stamford.

The residence, which boasts the subtle qualities of yesteryear mixed with the luxurious comforts of today, is represented by Stamford agent Cheryl McCormick and offered at $1,289,900.

Nestled in the quaint historic neighborhood of Old Long Ridge on an acre of private land, this five-bedroom, 4 1/2-bath home built in 1927 boasts the preserved structural integrity of its original construction, according to a press release.

Previously serving as a local hunting lodge in town, the property contains a quiet country atmosphere, surrounded by expansive grounds and mature specimen plantings with multiple patios for outdoor relaxation and entertaining, according to a press release.

The home's interior features include gleaming hardwood floors, beamed ceilings, an updated kitchen with a breakfast bar, dining area and granite countertops, French doors, two wood burning fireplaces and more, according to a press release.

For more info on 708 Hunting Lodge Road, you can visit here.

Get Breaking News In Your Inbox

Popular

- 1 Greenwich Girl, 17, Issued Tickets In Boating Death Of Friend Last Summer
- 2 Stamford Ranks High Among Young Professionals
- 3 Man Drowns In Creek On Bridgeport/Fairfield Border After Bar Fight
- 4 Second Arrest Made In Animal Cruelty Case At Danbury Pet Store
- 5 Jerome Kohlberg, Billionaire Area Businessman, Philanthropist, Dies