William Pitt Sotheby's recognizes top agents

William Pitt Sotheby's International Realty recently recognized the company's top-producing agents for the first six months of 2015.

Agents were acknowledged from offices in Fairfield, New Haven, Middlesex, New London and Litchfield counties. The firm announced its top 15 agents by dollar volume company wide, its top 15 by units company-wide, as well as its top two agents by both dollar volume and units in each of its offices.

The top agents by dollar volume included No. 1 agent Rita Kirby of the New Canaan office, in addition to Rachel Walsh, Robbie Blosio and Diane Jenkins; Ridgefield agent Laura Freed Ancona; Darien agents Nancy Crosland, Carolyn Brook and Bruce Baker; Kent agent Ira Goldspiel; Westport agent Cyd Hamer; Madison agent Margaret Muir; Essex agent Colette Harron; Stamford-Harbor Point agent Ed Villeda and Wilton agents Ryan Cornell and JoAnne Fisher.

The top agents by unit volume company-wide included number one agent Ed Villeda of the Stamford-Harbor Point office; Ridgefield agent Laura Freed Ancona; Litchfield agents Mary Clancey and Stephen Drezen; Kent agent Ira Goldspiel; Northern Fairfield County agents Lorraine Amaral, Kristie Perry and Kim Gifford; Old Lyme agents Sherri Milkie and Byron Lazine; Guilford agent Jules Gaughran-Etes; Stratford agent John Rose; Northern Stamford agent Helen Dennis; Essex agent Colette Harron; and Westport agent Cyd Hamer.

"The high standards and levels of success of our firm could never be achieved without the work ethic, expertise and dedication of our sophisticated sales professionals," said Paul Breunich, president and CEO of William Pitt Sotheby's International Realty. "I am proud to recognize and honor their extraordinary successes, and extend my congratulations to all recipients."
