Lea's cottage is picture perfect

► ACCLAIMED photographer Robyn Lea, right, who has worked with a long list of the world's most beautiful people, including supermodel Claudia Schiffer, is selling her cottage, below, for £1.55 million.

The colonial-style property, only an hour's drive from New York City, has five bedrooms and a beautiful outdoor dining area, making it a great place to entertain.

Lea, whose work has frequently graced the pages of the New York Times, Vogue, Architectural Digest, the Financial Times, Velvet, Harper's Bazaar and Elle Decoration UK, has a great eye for interior design. She has created a rustic look around original features such as a limestone fireplace and a stone sun room with French doors – an irresistible space.
