

AGENT PROFILE Evelyn Kinney

Being efficient and professional

Evelyn Kinney loves meeting people and what better way than to become a Realtor helping customers/clients find or sell their home.

In her 10 years of being a licensed agent, she has honed her customer service skills of being prompt, efficient and professional, and prides herself in being respectful to everyone, she said.

The most rewarding part of your career is being a trusted adviser to her clients. "Having your clients trust you is very rewarding," Kinney said.

She feels her best purchasing/selling skills are knowing the market keeping up with local market activity, researching MLS active and having knowledge of sold and pending listings.

For other agents, she recommends they just be honest and upfront with all clients and customers.

As an agent with William Pitt Sotheby's International Realty out of the Stratford office, Kinney serves the communities of Shelton, Stratford, Monroe Trumbull and Fairfield. Her specialty is both residential and rental properties.

Kinney, who personally calls Shelton home, is divorced with two children. Her daughter lives in Shelton and son lives in Seymour.

She is an animal lover and on her spare
